A traditional small holding with exciting redevelopment opportunities located on the outskirts of Westbury, Wiltshire.

Penleigh Farm is an exciting redevelopment project for a purchaser to renovate a charming Grade II Listed property into a contemporary family home. Alongside the farmhouse, there are numerous farm buildings that have a wealth of potential, perhaps converted to commercial or residential property, subject to planning.

Penleigh Farm extends to 6.19 acres (2.49ha) and is offered for sale as a whole.

The property is offered for sale by private treaty.

Property
Penleigh Farmhouse is a Grade II Listed home that dates from the early 18th Century with early 19th Century additions. The farmhouse has 5 bedrooms in its current state. However, planning permission and Listed Building consent were obtained in 2014 to convert the property into what would be a stunning 5 bedroom family home under planning application 14/05352/FUL.

The farm buildings that surround the farmhouse are a mixture of both modern and traditional buildings. The farm buildings are as much of an opportunity for redevelopment as the farmhouse, subject to planning.

Location
The property is situated in the hamlet of Penleigh, just outside the village of Dilton Marsh, which is approximately 1.5 miles west of Westbury, 5.5 miles east of Frome and 13 miles south of Bath. Not only is the property very well connected, it also boasts some fantastic walking, cycling and horse-riding routes with quiet lanes and numerous footpaths and bridleways. The renowned Westbury White Horse, which is one of the oldest and most renowned landmarks in the country can be seen from the property and is just 2.5 miles from Penleigh Farm.

Farmhouse

Penleigh Farmhouse is a rare canvas for a purchaser to transform a handsome, historic property into an enviable family home. The farmhouse is Grade II Listed built by George Turner in 1710 and is of red brick with Bridgewater tiles on the older sections of the house, which date from the 17th Century, and slate on the later additions, which date from the 18th Century. Full planning permission and Listed Building consent was obtained in 2014 to convert the farmhouse into a 5 bedroom family home with an extension to create a large kitchen which incorporates the red brick stables that sit adjacent to the farmhouse. The farmhouse has a unique charm which is enhanced by its remote location down the no through - Penleigh Road.

Amenities

Penleigh Farm is well located for a range of amenities. Dilton Marsh itself benefits from its own railway station, which connects the village to the south coast and Bristol Temple Meads. In addition to the railway station, the village has a public house and garage. For further amenities, Westbury is close at hand and can be reached in approximately 5 minutes, the town has a doctor's surgery, a railway station (direct train to London Paddington), several supermarkets, a wide range of sports facilities including swimming pools, a football club and a golf club, and a range of cafes and shops.
